Starting today, the Computer and Audiovisual Media Company, Cinesoft, makes its Virtual Reviewer platform available to users, free of charge, to support the preparation of Cuban students from the suspension of classes as a measure before the expansion of COVID -19.

The entity's communication group explained to the Cuban News Agency that initially this facility will be until June, however, the company's will is to support the current scenario, so it will be available from free of charge until all teaching activity is restored.
