On July 11, several Cuban government officials visited the rising Technological Park of Havana.

The Communications vice Minister, Grisel Reyes León, confirmed it on her Facebook profile:

“Visiting the rising Scientific-Technological Park of Havana, #3CE: Crea (Create), Crece (Grow) and Compite (Compete). Mercedes Lopez Acea, member of the Political Bureau and of the Secretariat of the Cuban Communist Party’s Central Committee, Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella, Minister of #Communications and other officials from the #MINCOM, which is the sponsor of this groundbreaking place, and from the #UCI, the place where committed professionals are excellently trained. We are committed to making the dream of our Commander in Chief, #FidelCastro come true, and we are going to accomplish it. The shareholders of this park are the Informatics and Communications Business Group and the #UCI”.
