This February 16, Segurmática, founded in 1995, celebrates its 26th anniversary.

On its institutional Facebook profile, the Segurmática Company, on the arrival of the new anniversary, wrote:

“We have achieved great development and quality in the products and services we provide; today, we are the pillar for the country's information security.
We prove every day with the work we do that the results are made possible thanks to the union, effort, sense of belonging, professionalism and love for their work of our staff.

This has allowed us to make great progress despite the obstacles we have faced along the way. We know that there are extensive projects and challenges that we must meet to keep up with what our country needs today, in terms of Information Security.

If anything characterizes us, it is the tenacity and commitment to meet the goals set to achieve technological sovereignty and computerization of the country”.
