

Source:

Institutional Communication

The Cuban Deputy Prime Minister Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella presided over the visit to China. The Cuban Minister of Communications Mayra Arevich Marín participates as part of the delegation.

The official Twitter account of the Cuban Deputy Prime Minister Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella announced: "We began a work visit to #China with an intense program associated with strengthening bilateral cooperation in strategic areas of telecommunications, digital television, cybersecurity, biotechnology and health. #Cuba."

Meanwhile, the Minister of Communications of Cuba, Mayra Arevich Marín wrote: "We integrate the delegation on a work visit to #China, led by VPM #Cuba @JorgeLuisPerd20, to strengthen bilateral cooperation in telecommunications, biotechnology, health and cybersecurity and promote joint projects. #JuntarYVencer #MejorEsPosible"

In a subsequent tweet, the Cuban Deputy Prime Minister Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella said: "We held a meeting with Jin Zhuanglong, Minister of Industry and Information Technology of #China, on projects and actions necessary to continue the development of telecommunications infrastructure in #Cuba, and to promote cooperation in ICT and digital television."

The Cuban Minister of Communications, Mayra Arevich Marín, in another tweet said: "We started an intense work program in #China, with a meeting with the Minister of Industries and Information Technologies (MIIT) #China, Jin Zhuanglong. At the meeting Deputy Prime Minister @JorgeLuisPerd20 remarked projects developed with MIIT, among other topics. #JuntarYVencer"

On the official Twitter account of the Cuban Deputy Prime Minister Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella he continued:

"As part of the implementation of the consensus reached between the Presidents of #Cuba and #China, we examined international cooperation projects in a fraternal meeting with Luo Zhaohui, President of the Chinese Agency for International Development Cooperation."

Cuba's Deputy Prime Minister Jorge Luis Perdomo Di-Lella, added in a tweet: "We visited the National Health Commission of #China and I held a meeting with its vice president Zeng Yixin on confronting the pandemic, development and registration of biopharmaceuticals, joint work between regulatory agencies, health strategies and medical collaboration".

---